- Your final credit amount will be determined by final sales price minus Ebay, PayPal and shipping fees which will be available for your review upon completion of the sale.
- Under no circumstances can auctions be ended early. All auctions will last 7-days and once the listing is posted, only adjustments to item descriptions may be made.
- In the event we feel your minimum bid amount is unattainable, we reserve the right to not list your auction. We will contact you to discuss recommended or reasonable starting bids with you.
- If your item does not sell in the first auction, we will, at your request, relist your item for 15% less than your minimum bid or reserve price. If the item does not sell in the second auction, your item will be returned to you.
